

Integrate your own design into your Jimdo-Page!

Hamburg, August 15, 2007. From now on, your creativity will not know any limits! According to the motto "freedom in content – freedom in design", every user can use his own design for his Jimdo-Page. That means that not only the content of the Page can be personalized, but also the appearance.

25.000 people worldwide are already Jimdo-Users, and the community is growing every day. Many different layouts, designs and colors make it possible for these users to create a personal and unique website that features pictures, videos and texts. Although users can already distinguish themselves from other website owners, Jimdo now presents a great development in this field: Users can integrate their own design into their Jimdo-Page! In order to use this feature, all you need is basic knowledge of HTML and CSS. Of course, users still can chose one of the designs that Jimdo offers. But on the other hand, a completely self-made homepage is something the owner can look at even more proudly.

About Jimdo

Jimdo is a Web 2.0-based and completely novel website creation tool which allows people to build their own fancy and unique homepage – for free! The use of Jimdo is very easy: within seconds users can integrate texts, picture galleries and videos. Additionally, Jimdo-Pages have a password-protected area, a newsletter system, a guestbook, interfaces to YouTube, flickr, del.icio.us – and the data transfer is of course also included!
